The Exchange

Where HR leaders share, inspire and grow

Your exclusive invitation to the launch of our new seminar series: The Exchange

We are delighted to announce that Roisin Currie, CEO of Greggs plc, will be joining us for a fireside chat as part of our launch event.

Roisin will share insights from her impressive leadership journey – from her early career at Asda to becoming Chief Executive of Greggs in 2022. The discussion will explore her transition from HR to the C-suite, the challenges she's overcome, and the pivotal moments that have shaped her career. Roisin will also speak about her broader boardroom experience as a Trustee of the Duke of Edinburgh Awards Scheme and Independent Non-Executive Director at Howdens.

Attendees will gain valuable insight into how these roles came about, the impact they've had on her leadership, and the advice she would offer to those considering similar opportunities.

What makes this session especially compelling is Roisin's natural ability to speak to the heart of what matters – culture, people, and purpose. Her reflections on leading a responsible business and delivering The Greggs Pledge will offer powerful inspiration to HR professionals looking to align personal values with strategic impact.
